What to Look For

- Attempting to gain access or found in places they don't belong
- Unusual interest in operational details and asking probing questions
- Avoiding eye contact and/or departing quickly when seen or approached
- Moving against the flow of traffic or loitering for no apparent reason
- Overdressed for the weather
- A strong odor coming from a bag or vehicle
- An overloaded vehicle or fluid leaking other than from the engine or gas tank

Active Shooter Warning Signs

A potential active shooter may exhibit additional warning signs that appear suspicious:

- Increasingly erratic, unsafe, or aggressive behaviors
- Hostile behavior based on claims of injustice or perceived wrongdoing
- Claims of marginalization or distancing from friends and colleagues
- Changes in performance at school or work
- Sudden and dramatic changes in home life or in personality
- Financial difficulties
- Pending civil or criminal litigation

- Observable grievances and making statements of retribution

While active shooter situations are often unpredictable, paying careful attention to warning signs could go a long way in mitigating a potential incident. Even people who are not a threat to others may benefit from resources available through the college and/or community.
